The California State Bar's publishing partner, Continuing Education of the Bar (CEB), has named San Diego business and real estate attorney Whitney Skala to its business & intellectual property law advisory committee.

The committee reviews and advises on CEB's many legal reference books, handbooks, and practice guides, including new product development in the specialties of emerging businesses, entity formation, business purchases and financings, and intellectual property.

Since 1996, Skala has authored the chapter on forming corporations for CEB's book, "Selecting and Forming Business Entities in California."

A frequent speaker on corporate and limited liability formation, Skala, of Skala & Associates, is the only San Diegoan on the 23-member committee.
